BeesMont Law Pupil Called to the Bar

Hamilton, Bermuda 19 November, 2018 – The Supreme Court was filled with colleagues, family and friends as Kimonea Pitt was called to the Bar before Chief Justice Narinder Hargun last Friday, 16 November.

Ms Pitt recently completed a year of pupillage at BeesMont Law, gaining experience in corporate, litigation and private client work, and is now a qualified associate in its corporate department.

Ms Pitt addressed the Court explaining that her interest in law began early as at the age of 5 she told her mother that she wanted to be a lawyer when she grew up and later participated in debate at primary and secondary school. She graduated Cedarbridge Academy as a member of the National Honour Society and with several student achievement awards. Ms Pitt went on to study business management at London Metropolitan University for her undergraduate degree. She then achieved her Graduate Diploma in Law with Commendation and Legal Practice Course qualification with Distinction from BPP Law School in the United Kingdom.

Ms Pitt thanked her pupil-master Stephanie Sanderson, the co-founders of the firm, Sharon A. Beesley and Marco Montarsolo, her colleagues, the National Training Board, and mentor Barclay Simmons of ASW Law.

Special thanks was given to Ms Pitt's family and particularly her Mother, Kimeka Wilson, of whom Ms Pitt stated: "This is just as much your accomplishment as it is mine."

She said: "Though I speak on my journey as if it was a smooth sailing experience, success did not come easy to me. There were many trials and tribulations along the way, from the stress, exam anxiety, countless hours of studying, and each year having to face the uncertainty of whether I would be returning to England to continue my studies due to financial hardships. Through it all I kept the end in view, and as a result of determination, hard work and sacrifices I stand today as a true testament that anyone can rise above their circumstances and achieve great things."

Ms Sanderson, calling Ms Pitt to the Bar, spoke of her accomplishments, character and hobbies including a strong commitment to volunteerism. Ms Sanderson said: "I am confident that Kimonea's professional attitude and sharp intellect will take her far and I have no doubt that she will continue to develop to become one of Bermuda's preeminent lawyers in the future."

Ms Pitt indicated that the milestone event marks both an end and a beginning and that she is eager to continue on her legal journey noting that it is not a right, but an honour and a privilege, to practice law.

Mr Montarsolo, Managing Partner at BeesMont Law, welcomed Ms Pitt to the firm saying: "We are proud to welcome Kimonea to BeesMont Law as an associate in our Corporate Department, particularly after
